

Cascade Clamp

Cascade Clamp - Established in Portland, Oregon in the year 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company started as a small machine store hiring just 4 individuals. Overall sales for that year totaled 60 thousand dollars. The first recorded sales revenues involved the assembly and machining of stainless steel pipe fittings, valves and different parts. Through 5 years of operation, the company had expanded to forty workers and their annual sales volume had increased to three hundred thirty thousand dollars. Nowadays, Cascade is among the top global makers within the material handling industry.

Design and manufacturing of the company's first hydraulic cylinder allowed this new company to aggressively engage in new business opportunities. Throughout the final sixty years, the trade of material handling has developed into a really sophisticated area with Cascade proudly playing a part in its growth. Cascade currently continues to grow as the best supplier of forklift attachments and various related products. The business feels confident in their capability in order to continue to lead the way within the business by understanding customer's needs in the future and remaining competitive within the world market.

In the 1950's, Cascade started designing, making and selling hydraulic attachments. Construction was finished in the year 1956 on a new facility in order to accommodate all of the office and plant operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's present headquarters. After fifteen years of business, total workers reached 180 staff and sales had reached almost two million three hundred thousand dollars.

The next production plant was built in the year 1959 in Springfield, Chula Vista. nineteen sixty marked Cascade's initial move into the global world of the material handling industry when the business established interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

The business altered its name to Cascade Corporation in 1964. In 1965, Cascade went public with an initial offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. The business has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the United States with locations in Portland, Oregon, Springfield, Chula Vista, and Warner Robins, Georgia. Cascade products are manufactured worldwide because of a lot of subsidiary operations. In 1994, a brand new facility was completed in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European headquarters. This plant is made to be the ultimate customer support centre.

Cascade further expanded their product base in 1996 and 1997 subsequent to acquiring five companies, which included the Kenhar Corporation, the international best in blades.